Dunham Technique Certification The Institute for Dunham Technique Certification presents the 2015 Dunham Certification Workshop. The event will be held from June 28 to July 3 and will be sponsored by the University of South Florida's School of Theatre and Dance. The Dunham technique is a codified dance training technique created and developed in the 1930's by noted artist and anthropologist Katherine Dunham. This technique is designed to develop strong dancers. Its focus on upper body and pelvis isolations make it ideal for modern, jazz and dance forms of the African Diaspora. the most sought after one-man think tank for entrepreneurs across Central Florida,” Britton has been advising artists, creatives, and startups for more than 20 years in Boston, Silicon Valley, New York, and Florida. Britton is also an adjunct professor of Creativity at the University of South Florida. He is a graduate of the Boston University School of Law and a Distinguished Alumnus of the MIT Media Laboratory. The best that can honestly be said of his dancing skills is that they almost never result in injury to persons or property. The luncheon is included in your conference registration fee.

Please remember to check the box indicating your intention to attend the luncheon on your conference registration form.

Dancing to Learn: The Brain's Cognition, Emotion and Movement is groundbreaking. Interdisciplinary 21st century neuroscience suggests that the brain "choreographs" dance-maker, dancer, and spectator. The book synthesizes new research in neuroscience with knowledge in the arts, humanities, social sciences, and education to offer illuminating insights about dance as a compelling medium of education for everyone.
